Civil Service Certifies Names for Unemployment Posts

FOUR IN COUNTY CHOSEN ON LIST

Arthur S. Johnston of Salem Is Included In Quartet

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Eligibility lists for positions of office manager, the first prepared since the recent state-wide examination, were certified to the unemployment compensation commission today by the state civil service commission.

From them will be chosen three grades of managers, at salaries ranging from $1,600 to $3,500 a year. More than 800 applicants received the average grade of 70 necessary to pass the written, oral and experience portions of the examination.

The tests were conducted during the last week of October and the first week of November to provide approximately 4,000 employees for the unemployment compensation commission, which will start payment of cash benefits to jobless workers about Feb. 1, 1939.

Later the scope was widened to include employees of all state departments who have been serving under provisional appointments, and more than 38,000 persons—the largest class in Ohio civil service history—participated.

The tests were financed by social security board grants which Civil Service Commissioner Ralph Emmons estimated might exceed $90,000 before all phases of the examinations are completed.

Emmons said successful applicants for other key positions would be certified as soon as possible, and that more than 2,000 posts would be filled by Jan. 1, 1939. Routine appointments, such as typists, clerks and stenographers, will be filled later, Emmons said.

Certify for 47 Offices

Carl W. Smith, civil service commission chairman, said today's certifications were for 47 of the unemployment compensation's 58 state district offices. Others already had been filled by Ohio State Em-

STORK IS AHEAD FOR 9 MONTHS

303 Births Listed by Health Board, Topping Death Record

Births outnumbered the deaths in Salem by 82 during the first nine months of the year, a vital statistics report compiled by the board of health disclosed today.

There were 303 births in that period compared to 221 deaths. Of the births 214 were in hospitals and 89 at home. Twenty-five stillbirths were reported.

In summarizing contagious diseases for the same period, measles were found to have been most prevalent, with a 329 total. One death was attributed to measles.

There were 148 cases of chicken pox, 49 pneumonia, 19 tuberculosis, 19 scarlet fever and one typhoid fever case. Twenty-four deaths resulted from pneumonia and seven from "T. B."

The greatest number of deaths occurred in persons between the ages of 50 and 80 years, the report shows.

Deaths under two years totaled two; one to ten years, 6; ten to twenty years, 10; twenty to thirty years, 8; thirty to forty years, 12; forty to fifty years, 17; fifty to sixty years, 36; sixty to seventy years, 39; seventy to eighty years, 40; eighty to ninety years, 23; and ninety to one hundred years, 3.

Peter J. Ferguson Dies In Damascus

Peter J. Ferguson, 67, operator of a service station in Damascus, former Salem resident, died at 5:30 p. m. yesterday at his home in Damascus, following several weeks illness of a heart ailment.

Mr. Ferguson, who was born April 26, 1871, in Toronto, Canada, resided here 22 years before going to Damascus in 1928. He was a stove-mounter by trade, but had operated a service station and adjoining lunch room in Damascus for some time. He was a member of St. Paul's Catholic church here.

He leaves his wife, Grace; four daughters, Miss Ann Ferguson, of home, Mrs. Herman Jones of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Orville Urdanopolis, Ind., and Mrs. John Urdanopolis, Ind.; six grandchildren; one brother, Frank, of Cleveland and one sister, Mrs. Rutledge of Toronto, Canada.

Rev. Fr. J. A. Mahan will conduct the funeral service at 10 a. m. Saturday in St. Paul's church. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the Stark Memorial, East State st., anytime.

INVESTIGATION IS OPENED BY P. O. INSPECTORS

Amount Taken Not Revealed by Postmaster H. O. Stanley

SAFE IS BLOWN ALMOST TO BITS

Blast Heard By Residents In District Shortly After Midnight

Postal inspectors arrived this morning to begin an investigation of the burglary of the fourth class postoffice at Damascus, where, shortly after midnight, safe-crackers blew up a small safe and escaped with undetermined loot.

Postmaster H. O. Stanley, who operates a general store where the postoffice is situated, would not disclose the amount taken, nor would Postal Inspector Russell of the Youngstown division, who is directing the probe.

Sheriff Ralph Elser of Mahoning county also was called on the case.

Blast Is Heard

Several Damascus residents heard the blast but were unaware of what was happening and the burglary was not discovered until Stanley opened up this morning. He immediately called the sheriff's office.

The safe had been blown almost to pieces and authorities were of the opinion that nitroglycerin had been used. One fragment of the safe had been blown through the floor and was found in the basement. Another piece was found on a stairway, having first passed through a wall.

Two windows in the store were shattered. One at the rear of the store, was believed to have been broken by the burglars to gain entrance. The other broken window was on the east side of the building.

The intruders apparently made a hasty exit after scooping up the contents of the safe, for the back door of the store was found wide open this morning. It had been unlocked from the inside.

Among the persons who heard the explosion when the safe was opened were Miss Anna Haldeman, living just east of the store, and Alf Robison, living the second door west of the building.

They said this morning that they heard the noise but didn't have any idea what had happened.

An invitation is extended to all shooters, both young and old, to participate in the competition.

BREAK HUNTED IN WATER MAIN

10-In. Line Under W. State St. Leaking; Water Is Muddied

Service department workers battled today to find the source of the trouble with pick and shovel, city officials had a steam shovel brought to the scene this morning.

The break muddied water in many of the lines going to homes. The water may remain in this condition tomorrow, it was indicated. After the break was discovered, pressure in the mains was increased so that the water supply to homes would not diminish.

Service Director Frank Wilson, Engineer F. S. Barckhoff and Fire Chief Vincent Malloy stayed at the scene all night to direct the work of trying to stop the flow of water.

The water rushed down W. State st. and into a catch basin near the railroad tracks. Director Wilson said some damage to the street may have been caused.

A fire truck aided last night in pumping water from the hole in order that workers might try to reach the broken line.

CITY RECEIVES RELIEF FUNDS

$1,250 Allocated for December; Township Receives $75

A relief allocation of $1,250 to the City of Salem for expenses during December, was announced today by County Relief Director John Orr.

The distribution was based upon a case load of 87 families and 260 individuals.

Total relief disbursements to municipalities and townships today were listed at $15,970. The county's case load was reported as 1,138.

Perry township received $75 for the month. Allocated to East Liverpool was $5,255 for a 400 case load; East Palestine $535 for a 34 case load and Wellsville, $805 for a 65 case load.

Surplus commodities, distributed here today to indigents, included butter, dried peaches, graham flour, powdered skim milk and carrots.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—While the relief fund is falling in Ohio, the administrative cost in many counties has shown an increase. State Relief Director William C. Dixon charged today.

He said that Assistant Director Frank Kleinhenz had conducted a survey that revealed that in only five counties had the costs of administering aid been reduced. The increases he added were especially noticeable in Cuyahoga and Franklin counties.

Figures given him, he asserted, "indicate definitely that personnel has not been cut to correspond with decreased relief loads."

"We are running an emergency relief system, not a service agency," he added. "As such, it is essential to cut costs."

He said he would order the use of work relief clients for surplus commodities distribution and Works Progress Administration certification in counties which failed to keep total administrative costs below 15 per cent of the total disbursements.

Figures on Cuyahoga county, he said, showed that in September $591,795 was spent for relief, and 15.34 per cent of the total was administrative overhead. In October, $537,378 was spent while the cost jumped to 18.95 per cent, he added.

FREIGHT SMASHES INTO BUS

Tragedy Occurs Ten Miles South of Salt Lake City

(By Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 1.—A fast freight train crashed into a loaded school bus during a snowstorm near here today, killing 26 and injuring at least a dozen others.

W. E. Speakman, chief clerk of the Rio Grande and Western railway, said 26 dead had been counted. The bodies were taken to mortuaries throughout the city and attempts were being made to locate relatives to assist in identification. The victims were children between 12 and 16 years of age.

Mrs. Sarah Bergstrom, business superintendent of the Salt Lake City General hospital, said she personally aided in the recovery of 18 bodies.

Estimates of the number of persons on the bus ranged from 40 to 60.

Scattered Along Tracks
Dead and injured were scattered along the right-of-way for hundreds of feet.

The accident occurred at 8:56 a. m. M. S. T., at a rural crossing about 10 miles south of here. The bus was bound for the Jordan High school.

The condition of the bodies and the inaccessibility of the crossing made a definite check of casualties difficult.

A sleet storm had reduced visibility and had delayed the schedule of the Denver and Rio Grande and Western freight, "The Flying Ute."

Sheriff S. Grant Young, told the engineer, E. L. Reahmer, told him he was on the right side of the cab and that the bus was coming from the left. His fireman screamed for him to stop, he said.

Young said the freight normally is going about 60 miles an hour at the crossing. The sheriff said apparently the bus driver stopped at the crossing and then started up again so that the engine hit it broadside, bending the big bus around the front of it.

"It was the awfulest thing I ever saw," David Witter, 22, of Denver, riding on an oil tank close to the freight engine, told Sheriff Young. "Snowing pretty hard," said Witter.

"All of a sudden I felt a terrific bump. . . . Finally the train pulled to a stop."

"I got off. It was the awfulest thing I ever saw. It looked like a bunch of cattle."

"One little girl was standing there screaming, holding for dear life to a little pocketbook."

"None of them seemed to die right away."

"One by one they would stop screaming."

"One boy had virtually all of his clothing stripped off him."

For hundreds of feet down the railroad tracks books, clothes, handkerchiefs, even shoes, were scattered.

Appeal Refused

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—The Ohio supreme court ruled yesterday in refusing the appeal of Stephen Figuli, lone survivor of a gang that engaged Columbus police in a gun battle last Feb. 4, that the 21-year-old Cleveland murder die in the electric chair Dec. 21. Figuli was convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of Detective Robert Cline, one of four men who died as a result of the battle.

THE NATION BEFORE THE MAN

There are few occasions for finding fault with the completeness of Walter Lippmann's reasoning. His conclusions may differ from those of his readers, but in reaching them he is careful to take into consideration all points of view.

However, in writing Tuesday of President Roosevelt's coming choice between leading the country through conciliation to internal peace or through conflict to disunion, he seems to have ignored a vital point. After saying Mr. Roosevelt can strengthen and extend his essential reforms by choosing conciliation, Mr. Lippmann seems to assume he can choose conflict just as easily, even though it would jeopardize all he has accomplished.

It is the old issue of which is more important, the leader or the circumstances which create the need for leadership. In all countries, including this one, there is a present tendency to over-emphasize the importance of the leader at the expense of the circumstances which determine the shape and direction of his leadership. There is no reason to believe that in retrospect the leader will not be secondary to the circumstances of his times, however.

In other words, by choosing to seek internal peace through conciliation Mr. Roosevelt can secure that place of esteem in history which he would like to occupy. By precipitating disunion through conflict he most certainly can destroy his prestige, but he cannot wreck the country.

The United States is greater in power and wisdom than any individual within it. Any leader who makes the mistake of trying to buck a trend—of running contrary to the circumstances of leadership—will destroy himself. It cannot be assumed, as Mr. Lippmann seems to assume, that President Roosevelt can destroy his country if he makes the wrong decision. Where voters are free, as they still are in the United States, the leader who chooses wrong can and will be repudiated. That has happened already to Mr. Roosevelt in the court reorganization and purge issues.

BLESSSED BE THE HUNTERS

Names make news, so the country is generally aware that an up and coming big league pitcher's career has been ended by a hunting accident which made amputation of a leg necessary. Monte Stratton will win no more baseball games for Chicago's White Sox.

The accident was one of many this season. There have been some fatalities, too. As usual, there is a widespread murmur of criticism, most of it to the effect that American men need to learn more about handling guns.

That's true, but it goes deeper than hunting. There's another aspect to it. Hunting and target shooting provide this country's closest approach to military training abroad. Army officers in the World War learned what it meant to train men who never had handled a gun before.

In many cases, recruits who had learned the knack in the open field while hunting small game were utilized to teach their companions how to shoot. There's more to war than being able to hit a target, but nothing more important.

Instead of moaning about the propensity of hunters for shooting one another—and there are relatively few accidents for the number of men who go hunting—Americans should be grateful there still are some of their number left carrying on the pioneer tradition that they are the world's handiest gun handlers.

THEY GET PAID FOR IT

Sometimes it's a wonder American businessmen make enough money for the government to take away. They're so naive about some things.

Take airline hostesses. In the first place, they're attractive. It takes a girl with some "git and go" to nail a job which entails so much skill, not to mention risk.

Then in the second place the air transport companies have built up the hostesses with publicity till a passenger expects to find something with the skill of a trained nurse, the beauty of a movie queen, the spirit of Joan of Arc and the understanding heart of his own mother—and frequently does.

In short, there was a conspiracy to throw the air hostesses right at the heads of every susceptible male who rode in a plane. They even gave the girls food to hand out, as though they needed to get at the men's hearts through their stomachs, too.

The result, one airline now admits, is a terrific turnover; in 98.5 per cent of the cases marriage is the reason for quitting. We'll bet the cost of a ride to southern California (one way) that the so-called businessmen who run the airlines actually have been paying the hostesses for the privilege of getting a husband, too.

THE SHOE FITS

Circumstances alter cases; Harry Hopkins must have good and sufficient reasons for denying he ever said anything to the effect of "spend and spend, tax and tax, elect and elect."

In so doing, however, Mr. Hopkins makes it appear he is missing the point of the argument between himself and Arthur Krock of The New York Times, who once quoted him to that effect.

The point is that the idea of spending, taxing and electing is so clearly revealed in the acts of the Roosevelt administration that all Mr. Hopkins would have done by making the remark attributed to him would have been to describe briefly what has been taking place.

It's a place where actions speak louder than words. Why Harry Hopkins should take so much trouble to repudiate a description without simultaneously repudiating the thing described is one of those mysteries of politics which can't be solved. Probably he has his reasons.

All available army transports will be used and a number of old battleships and cargo vessels will be reconitioned so they can be used to bring the boys home. It is hoped that before long the soldiers can be returned at the rate of 300,000 a month.

Following the regular weekly prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church a farewell reception will be held for Rev. and Mrs. Swan. Rev. Swan has resigned his pastorate here and will move soon to Willoughby where he will make his home.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, December 2

THE LUNAR transits for this day may be expected to give excellent impetus to employment, industry, relations with superiors and those in power, with the prospect of advancement, preferments and probably increased finances. Elders also seem to play an important part, through inheritance, trust or insurance. However, there is much concern regarding the bereavement or grave condition of an elderly person.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of advancement, promotion or other marks of preferment from employers, elders or superiors. There also are auguries of gifts, insurance, bequest or trust, although there may be much grave concern regarding an elderly person. Be discreet in social matters and safeguard finances.

A child born on this day may be steady, studious, profound and responsible, attracting the attention and preferment of those in places of power and influence. At the same time, it may be inclined to remain aloof, enjoying solitude and a life of contemplation.

TAKE ECONOMIC SYSTEM APART

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The federal monopoly committee, after weeks of preliminary study, began today a two-year inquiry into the complex workings of the nation's economic system.

Recommendations eventually may be made for extensive changes in the system to promote competition, increase and stabilize employment, get a wider distribution of income, and control if not reverse the trend toward bigger and bigger business organizations. The committee is composed of six members of congress and six representatives of government agencies. Isador Lubin, chief of the bureau of labor statistics, was the first witness to describe how the economic system now works.

Lubin will be followed by William Thorpe, commerce department economist, and Leon Henderson, committee secretary and former WPA economist. Thorpe will discuss the structure of the national economy and Henderson will outline the future trends of the inquiry.

The committee next week will begin examination of business witnesses, studying first the problem of patents. An automobile executive will open this phase of the hearing—possibly Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company; K. T. Keller, Chrysler president, or Alfred P. Sloan or William S. Knudsen of General Motors.

In the opinion of administration officials, no economic study of comparable extent has been undertaken in the more than 50 years that the government has been struggling with the problem of business controls.

Nor ever before, they claim, has a group sat down to find out so dispassionately what in the system is economically sound and what harmful; how much "bigness" is essential for maximum industrial efficiency; what constitutes monopoly and how it best may be controlled.

Originally conceived as simply another monopoly investigation, the present inquiry was laid out along much broader lines by President Roosevelt early this year. He recommended to congress the creation of a temporary national economic committee to look into everything from patent pools and price-fixing to interlocking directorates and the concentration of wealth.

DEER HUNTING SEASON IN EUROPE

Can't Replace Nerve Cells, Dr. Clendening Points Out

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Once a nerve cell is destroyed it can never be replaced. Nerve cells are highly specialized and it is a general rule that the more highly specialized a cell is, the less likely it is to regenerate. A cell or, indeed, a thousand cells of the skin on the back of your hand can be destroyed and the intact cells at the side of the cut or burn will multiply and fill in the gap. But destroy a group of nerve cells and the surrounding cells do not divide and replace them. They have too much work of their own to do.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

There is an analogy to this in society. A thousand ditch diggers might be destroyed by a flood; the next day a thousand others would take their places. But remove an Einstein or an H. L. Mencken and the loss is permanent.

Spells Tragedy This fact makes diseases of the nervous system tragic and difficult. In infantile paralysis, for instance, if during the acute attack some cells in the spinal cord are destroyed, they are never replaced, and the paralysis of the muscles to which they send fibers is permanent.

Two things can happen to any cell or group of cells in the body. Their activity can be lowered or it can be raised. Both things happen to the cells of the nervous system in marked degree.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

To the motor cells, lowered activity means paralysis, heightened activity tremor of the muscles or convulsions, as in epilepsy. To the sensory cells, lowered activity means numbness, while heightened activity means painful sensations without cause, such as neuralgia. To the cells of the intellectual area, lowered activity means sleep or melancholia, while heightened activity means delirium or mania.

Causes Numerous All nervous disorders can be thought of in this way. The causes which operate to produce these results are numerous. The nervous system is especially susceptible to drugs. Some depress, some excite. Morphine is used to quiet nervous activity. Alcohol to a certain extent, excites and then depresses. These drugs apparently exert their influence directly on the nerve cell. That is why they are habit-forming. Largely why, at least. I have seen a great many articles lately discussing that great American disease, alcoholism, as if it were all a question of personality—a psychological problem. Much more than that, it is a chemical problem—the need of the nerve cell to be saturated.

Other causes of nervous disorders are infections and tumors. Infections, such as infantile paralysis just mentioned, paresis and encephalitis can be treated and brought to a successful termination, but with some loss of function due to destruction of nerve cells. Great advance has been made in the early recognition and treatment of tumors of the central nervous system.

Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

HANES WINTER SETS

A Brand-new, Grand-new Ideal

The missing link between Summer and Winter underwear. Four popular styles. Wear a sleeveless or short-sleeve middleweight undershirt. Then step into No-Botton Shorts. Knit Shorts, Wind-Shield, or Snap-Tites (Figures A, B, C and D). Knit middleweight cloth gives protection outdoors without uncomfortable bulk indoors!

NO MORE SHIVERS FOR ME... NOT WITH THESE HANES WINTER SETS!

SCHOOL NEWS AT DAMASCUS

A council meeting of the Home Economics club will be held with Dorothy Malmbsberry Monday evening, Dec. 5.

A photography meeting will be held at the High school building Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. E. E. Jones will give a lecture. This meeting is open to the public.

A turkey dinner was cooked and served by the boys' Home Economics class to the girls' classes. The meal was served English style with Miss Stackhouse, hostess, and Harry Kendrick, host. The host carved the turkey.

Honor guests were Prof. and Mrs. C. G. Long. Alumni associate members present were Frances Lane, Leonard Mounts and Eugene Rhodes. There were 45 present.

A card was sent to Dick Callahan's mother, Mrs. D. T. Callahan, who is ill. Flowers were sent by the club to Louise Hans, president of the club, who underwent an operation at the Salem City hospital Monday.

F. O. (FOOT ODOR)

HOW TO KILL IT

F. O. penetrates shoes. Your friends smell it. You don't. You are immune to the odor. Get 30¢ worth of Te-o-J Solution with camphor at any drug store. Apply full strength before retiring for F. "I'M THROUGH WITH THAT TARZAN STUFF!"

• Old Man Winter has made a monkey out of me... for the last time. The minute cold weather came, I shed my light Summer underwear and put on these HANES middleweight Winter Sets! Don't say I'm getting soft. I've got enough sense to know that even if you do work indoors, a man needs some protection when he goes outside.

• And, believe me, you get it with Winter Sets... without feeling bundled-up indoors, either! But, Mister, when you're out in the wind, you certainly give the old goose-flesh the go-by!

I tell you, I'm through with that Tarzan stuff—and thinking of my comfort and health.

HANES WINTER SETS ARE 50¢ TO 69¢ THE GARMENT

Well-known HANES Union-Suits, 89¢ up; Shirts and Drawers begin at 59¢; Boys' Union-Suits, 69¢; Merri-child Sleepers, 79¢. P. M. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

"Often a Bridesmaid"

BY HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS
Margaret, eldest of the three children, is the prettiest. It is she who provides the boy friends for her sisters, Natalie and Barbara. With most of the eligible young men of the community to choose from, Margaret picks Kenneth Raleigh, penniless but popular and handsome young football player. Margaret's best friend, Sue, also loves Kenneth. Margaret announces her engagement to him. Then comes the blow of financial trouble. Alex Wickham has lost all his investments. Margaret suspends her marriage and goes to work in a dress shop. Ken only gets a $18 a week in a haberdashery and gets an offer from a brokerage house to represent them in Honolulu. He enthusiastically tells Margaret of his plans. They will get married and sail in two weeks. She tells him it will be impossible for her to leave her family yet and go with him. Ken is in anger saying he is through.

CHAPTER XI
After a long time Margaret came to the house. She walked right through the hall and up to her room. In the morning she was very-eyed and pale, but she was in the kitchen in time to get the breakfast things started, and to fix tray for Aunt Bet, for Babs to go upstairs.
"Maggie, I overheard something last night. I didn't want to listen, but Ken talked so and I worried all night. It isn't all off?"
"Yes, it's all off." Tears welled in Margaret's eyes, but not in Margaret's. She'd shed all her tears, her eyes were dry and hard.
"Yes," she said, "it's true."
Alex Wickham, tan overcoat over his arm, came in to see if Margaret was ready to drive to the train with him. "Why the thunder clouds on a bright spring day?"
"Oh, no reason at all," Babs said. "Margaret is going to marry Ken!"
"I sent him away, Daddy. It's all off."
"Well, my dear! If you sent him away why the clouds? Why droop like the jilted farmer's daughter?"
"Sorry," Margaret said stiffly.
Babs said, "Maybe you'll make a darling!"
"Dear Babs, Margaret smiled. I'm afraid not. It's just a little and to take right away. To get to it. After all, Daddy I've been engaged nearly four years. It is, practically. But I'll go to it. Come on—we'll miss the train!"
Babs watched them leave, Daddy standing, explaining as they went down the broad stairs, cut across the lawn to the garage where the old outmoded car waited.
Natalie burst into the breakfast room just as the engine started. The two drove away, exploding. "I wanted the car!"
"You're too late. Anyway, it's as well. Margaret's in an awkward state. She and Ken broke up last night, and she cried all night. I heard her. She looks awful this morning."

Natalie burst into the breakfast room, exploding, "I wanted the car!"
Natalie said, "You might have squeezed my orange juice for me, you know I'm in a hurry! And don't get so excited about Maggie. Anyway I don't believe it."
"You will?"
"Well, what was it all about?"
"Ken wanted her to quit her job and marry him right away and sail in two weeks on the Lurline."
"Sail where?"
"Honolulu! He's got a job there!"
"He has!" Natalie was really impressed now. "Well, for heaven's sake! Why wouldn't Maggie go?"
"Us. Wouldn't walk out on us."
"I never heard of anything so crazy. It's more likely something about Susie. She's found out something about Susie."
"Blah! He hates her. That nitwit couldn't take him away from Margaret!"
"Any female can take any man away if she sets her mind on it and, the other one won't fight back the same way."
"I tell you Sue had nothing to do with it. It was because he wanted her to go on the Lurline and she said she couldn't, but she'd come later and he said no, that he wouldn't wait for her."
"He said that!"
"Uhuh—I heard him. And Margaret said, 'You can't mean it. Ken—and he said he couldn't make it any plainer—'
"The low hound!"
"Yes, isn't he? So he went out and she ran after him—"
"She would," Natalie said, piling jam on her toast. "Of all the dumb tricks! So then what happened?"
"I wasn't trying to listen—I just happened to, and naturally I was so stunned—"
"Ken—and he said he couldn't wait?"
"Nothing. Just went upstairs. And I heard her crying afterwards. I woke up three different times, and she was still crying."
"She's crazy. She should have gone."
"I know, but look, Nat. If she had—"
"I suppose so." Babs brightened. "Anyway, it isn't as if Maggie never had but the one boy friend in her life."
"He's the only one she ever wanted, don't forget that."
"But there's no point in it! I may be young and all that, but honestly, I can see that Ken isn't any grand catch even if he is going to Honolulu to live. I don't care if he is good looking and popular and everything. Maggie could do lots better."
Natalie gathered up her things. "Out of the mouths of babes," she murmured.
"Yes, but you know I'm right."
"No, you're not, precious. Maggie could but she won't. She isn't the type. No, she'll miff it, I'm afraid. Looks are wasted on her. I wish I had half of her looks. Would I go places? Well, I suppose I'll have to worry along with the face I've got, and maybe I won't do so bad either. It's up to us Babs. If there are any fortunes being married in this family, you and I will have to marry 'em!"
"Not me!"
"Then I will! I'm no snob! I don't hold it against a man because he's rich!"

Tex Ritter, longtime favorite of western movie fans, returns to the Grand Friday and Saturday in the western action drama, "Where the Buffalo Roam."

In the 1890's, bandits were killing off buffalo, and the animal was practically extinct. The situation was especially bad because it was in violation of an American treaty with the Indians, who depended on the buffalo for food. Tex (Tex Ritter), Ananias (Horace Murphy) and Pee Wee (Snub Pollard) are enroute to Santa Fe as buffalo scouts, to prevent this slaughter, and thus stop the Indians from going on the warpath.

Seeks Revenge
When Tex learns that his mother has been killed by a gang of outlaws there, he is determined to round them up, especially as he has clues that they are the same gang who are mixed up in the buffalo killings. On the way to Santa Fe he prevents the holdup of a stage by Rogel (Karl Hackett), and it is revealed that Tex and Rogel are old friends. Rogel confesses that he is being blamed for all the crimes that have been committed, and that he, too, is an officer of the law, working as an outlaw in an attempt to get the buffalo killers and also the murderer of Tex's mother, who was Rogel's sister, Laddie (Dorothy Short), a girl who was on the stage, falls in love with Tex. She is the sister of Jeff Gray (Dave O'Brien), who owns a freight line that the railroad is dickering for to complete their transcontinental line. Foster (John Merton), supposedly one of the town's outstanding citizens, appoints Tex town marshal, believing that he can use him for his own crooked ends. For Foster is the real head of the gang of outlaws. When the mob finds out that he is a buffalo scout, Foster plans to get rid of him. He wants to get Jeff Gray's freight line away from him so he can sell it to the railroad at a huge profit. To do so, he has outlaws attack the stage in an effort to break Jeff's franchise.

Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the leading roles of "The Citadel," showing tonight, Friday and Saturday at the State theater.

Thrown In Jail

The townspeople throw Tex in jail on Foster's false accusations, but Pee Wee and Ananias get him out by a trick. Tex sends Ananias to help Jeff drive the stage, and when it is attacked Tex and Rogel's gang counter-attack and drive the bandits into a trap.

The railroad buys Jeff's line, and Laddie and Tex continue their romance.

Concluding tonight at the Grand are: "King of Alcatraz," with J. Carroll Nash, Lloyd Nolan and Gail Patrick; and "Personal Secretary," featuring William Gargan and Joy Hodges.

The film, "The Citadel," which, as a novel ranks among the best sellers in America and abroad, although it was published a year ago, is featured tonight, Friday and Saturday at the State. Dr. Cronin, the author, has admitted that when he drew his word picture of the heroic young surgeon he saw Robert Donat in the role.

Here is a moving drama of life in the mines where a struggling young physician risks his life to save trapped workmen in the pit. He meets a girl, played by Rosalind Russell, and marries her. They move into the city where he develops a paying practice in the social set but learns to abandon the high ideals with which he started out.

But a bad operation restores him to his senses. With the help of his bride and a group of fellow doctors he makes a come-back and we see the drama of victory over big odds—the triumph of love and faith.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Forty members of the Latin-American club of the University of Texas have joined in a pledge to undergo adequate medical tests before marriage. Dr. R. P. Voyer, general director of the Texas Social Hygiene association, called the pledge the first of its kind in the United States.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The Missouri statute revision commission report reveals that a law requiring county courts to make maps of French and Spanish claims in Missouri is still in effect.

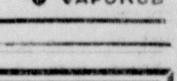

Get Comforting Relief from RUNNY HEAD COLDS

DO THIS: Put some Vicks VapoRub up each nostril and sniff well back.

NEXT: melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; breathe in the medicated vapors for several minutes. This loosens phlegm and further clears the air-passages.

AT BEDTIME: rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back so its long-continued double action can relieve the misery of the cold while you sleep.

TRY IT—then you'll know why VapoRub is a standby in 3 out of 5 homes.

Convict Nurse of Concealing Birth

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 1. — A weary federal court jury convicted an attractive young nurse early today of concealing the birth of her child while she was working in a U. S. Veterans' facility at Batavia, N. Y.

The nurse, 23-year-old Mary Kathryn Reed, burst into tears as the jury of seven married women and five men returned the verdict.

The jury acquitted Miss Reed on an involuntary manslaughter count.

The concealment charge, a misdemeanor, carries sentence of not more than a year in jail or a $500 fine or both. Judge John Knight deferred sentence pending hearing of defense motions.

Miss Reed stoutly maintained the child was born dead.

The prosecution contended the child was alive at birth and died of "neglect."

Bond Is Reduced
TULSA, Okla., Dec. 1.—Grover H. (Burhead) Keady, reported in poor health awaiting trial at the first 1939 term of federal court on a charge of receiving $4,500 of the $34,000 loot taken in a mail train robbery at Garrettsville, O., in 1935, needed to raise bond of $7,500 today to obtain his release from jail. The bond was reduced from $10,000.

Hire Union Labor

STEUBENVILLE, Dec. 1.—The Cleveland Wrecking company announced yesterday an agreement with American Federation of Labor unions to employ only union labor in wrecking old buildings on the site of a new $1,000,000 high school, and started to work in time to meet a deadline fixed under Works Progress Administration grant.

Policy Of Anti-Semitism Creates Problem in Italy

Concern of Italians Over Pope's Illness Serves To Emphasize Delicacy of Situation

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

ROME, Dec. 1.—The deep concern of the Italian public over the illness of Pope Pius served to emphasize the delicacy of the situation created by the clash between church and state over the Fascist anti-Semitic policy.

The reaction of the people when any pontiff is sick always is such as to reaffirm their adherence as a whole to the church.

Might Bring On Test
The reaction is no less marked now than in the past. To put it another way, any major controversy between the Vatican and the government might, if protracted, resolve itself into a test of the loyalty of the public to its deeprooted religion, and of course by the same token into a test of loyalty to the temporal government.

In the present instance the Jewish question doesn't stand out alone as a point of friction, for there are other subjects of contention.

But apart from that there is another element which, while not the object of open argument, is likely to have a bearing on relations between the church and the state.

This is the fact that Mussolini's great ally, Herr Hitler, is attempting to force regimentation of the church in Germany by methods which the faithful denounce as persecution.

Would Call For Skill
Those things taken together create a position which observers feel might call for all the great skill of Mussolini to handle successfully. Should the controversy become greatly aggravated the time might arrive when Il Duce would have to ask the people to choose between him and the church.

It would indeed take a very bold person to essay a test of strength with the spiritual sovereign of one-sixth of the total population of the earth.

As a matter of fact, in travelling through many countries I have found that observers generally feel that one of the gravest dangers any dictatorship can court is to try to enforce the regimentation on religion-Catholic, Protestant, Jewish or any other.

Even the primitive savage of Africa will fight for his right to worship his own way.

Wop's Force Issue
Thus far, while there have been some difficult moments between the church and the Fascist government, Mussolini has not given any indication that he intended to force such an issue.

In fact, it was he who signed the famous Lateran treaty in 1929, ending the church-state quarrel which had been going on almost 60 years. Under this treaty the Catholic religion became the state religion, and the pope, the "Prisoner of the Vatican," once more was free to set foot in the outside world.

No one knows Mussolini's mind but Mussolini. He is a lone worker. However, those who have been privileged to watch him at close range for a long time are under the impression that he intends to avoid any test of strength with the Vatican.

The point is not, of course, that Il Duce is afraid to fight with anybody. Fear never has appeared in his makeup. But while he is fearless he also is widely credited with possessing one of the most astute minds of history.

Would Force Division
An even less keen intellect can see that if the public of this country were forced to make such a choice, the best that the government could hope for would be an Italian political house divided against itself.

Those who think that the big leaders don't watch the temper of their people are in error. Both Mussolini and Hitler are most careful to keep in touch with public sentiment and frame their policy in accordance with the reactions which they note.

This does not necessarily mean that the public approves all the policies applied to them, but it does mean the dictators believe they are safe in pursuing those policies.

Search Conducted For Kidnaped Girl

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Police and residents of nearby Maryland conducted an intensive search today for 18-year-old Mary Brown, reported by her sister to have been abducted by two roughly dressed young men.

The sister, Lucy, 15, said Mary was seized late yesterday and thrown into the rear of a small delivery truck on a lonely road near their home at suburban Oxon Hill, Md.

Lucy said she herself broke away from the men, leaped into underbrush by the roadside, crawled under a fence and ran screaming across a snow-covered field to her home.

Capt. Edward Johnson of the Maryland state police took charge of the search for the missing girl, a pretty brunette.

Two young men, riding in a truck, were questioned by Washington police during the night. Inspector Bernard Thompson said they acknowledged being in the vicinity of Oxon Hill at the time of the abduction, but denied having seen the girls.

William B. Brown, the girls' father, was called from his work at the federal bureau of printing and engraving.

STUDIES PLANS FOR CONGRESS

Roosevelt Turns From Vacation Play to Lay Plans For Congress Legislation

(By Associated Press)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 1.—President Roosevelt, turned from vacation play today to start laying the foundation for his new congressional program.

Speaker Bankhead was due here from his home in Alabama for a general discussion of party strategy and a legislative slate featuring defensive proposals expected to call for an outlay of well over $1,000,000,000.

The new relief budget unofficially estimated to involve upwards of another $1,000,000,000 was scheduled for a second conference between the President and Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator.

While William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, was listed as another caller at the "Little White House", the diplomat said in Miami, Fla., enroute here from a vacation in the Bahamas, there was "no story back of the trip".

He added he was coming at the invitation of Mr. Roosevelt and would talk with him "about anything he wants to talk about."

The conferences with Bankhead and Hopkins were to mark the start of a series of congressional problems that will keep the chief executive going at top speed between Dec. 5, when he returns to Washington, and the convening of the new national legislature with its increased Republican strength.

Gov.-Elect Bricker Selects Attorney As Executive Aid

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Harry M. Miller, 35-year-old Gallipolis attorney, today was named as Gov.-Elect John W. Bricker's executive secretary at an annual salary of $5,000.

Bricker takes office Jan. 9. The only other principal administrative aid he has named is William S. Evans as finance director.

Miller, three times prosecutor of Gallia county, is chairman of the county Republican executive committee. He attended Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State universities.

The salary is $1,000 less than the amount being paid Daniel S. Earhart, Gov. Martin L. Davey's executive secretary. Bricker said he would pay his personal secretary, yet unnamed, $5,000. Mrs. Myrna Smith, Davey's personal secretary, receives $6,500.

Justice of Peace Is Sued for $10,000

Frank L. King of Salem today in Lisbon filed suit against William G. Rich, Jr., Perry township justice of the peace, asking $10,000 damages for alleged false arrest.

The plaintiff charges that Rich on Sept. 1, 1938, "falsely and maliciously" charged him with driving a car with fictitious plates, signed the affidavit himself and had the warrant issued in his own (Rich's) court.

King was involved in a transaction with E. H. Althouse, automobile dealer, in which Althouse failed to provide King with a proper certificate of title. The grand jury ignored King's case but indicted Althouse, who drew a small fine and was released.

King alleges his reputation was ruined and that he was "humiliated, underwent mental pain, lost time at work and spent money for attorney's fees."

Anna Marie Hahn Makes Final Appeal To Governor Davey

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—In a last desperate effort to save the life of Anna Marie Hahn, counsel for the blonde Cincinnati poison slayer sentenced to die in the electric chair six days hence, went today before Daniel S. Earhart, executive secretary to Gov. Martin L. Davey, to plead her case.

Confronting the attorneys was the plain-spoken statement by the governor that Mrs. Hahn either would die next Wednesday or receive a commutation to life imprisonment.

"There will be no reprieve," he said flatly last night. "That would be unfair to my successor. I shall decide by Dec. 7, without further delay, whether Mrs. Hahn shall die or whether I shall commute her sentence to life imprisonment."

The sole question, the governor said, was:

"Should I allow a woman to die?"

He said that the fact that she would become the first woman ever to die in Ohio's electric chair was of no concern, that it was not a "matter of breaking precedent."

"I'm not responsible for the action of my predecessors," he said. "I have lain awake for hours at night wondering what to do about Mrs. Hahn, and I've read all the newspaper stories about her."

"After all, I'm the man who has to live with my conscience."

Following a policy of not superseding the courts, Governor Davey has commuted the sentence of only two of the men sentenced to the electric chair since he took office four years ago.

Mrs. Hahn was convicted a year ago of the poisoning of Jacob Wagner, 78-year-old Cincinnati gardener, for his tiny fortune.

Whittmore Act Is Approved by Court

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Payment of delinquent taxes on an installment basis had the approval of the Ohio supreme court today.

Upholding the various Whittmore laws that provide for periodic partial payment of overdue taxes, the court ruled late yesterday that the acts "are nothing more than legislation calculated to clear up arrearages and are reasonably calculated to facilitate tax collections."

The decision was unanimous.

One section providing for refund of penalties paid on 1932 delinquencies was held invalid in accordance with a former decision on the Ogria act, which provided for refund of all penalties.

The Whittmore laws were attacked by former Prosecuting Attorney Dudley Miller Outcall of Hamilton county, in a suit to compel George Gukenberger, Hamilton county auditor, to ignore contracts made under the laws and to collect all delinquencies immediately.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Republican house members-elect met here today to elect in caucus officers for the new general assembly. Since the party will control the next legislature, today's selections will prevail.

The caucus was slated to start at 1 p. m.

Capital sources said that William M. McCulloch of Miami county probably would be named speaker and J. Harry McGreggor of Coshocton county floor leader.

Following the meeting, the elected leaders were expected to confer with Gov.-Elect John W. Bricker concerning a legislative program.

The senate Republicans-elect will caucus tomorrow.

Among outstanding Republicans at the G. O. P. national committee meeting in Washington were Mrs. Ruth Pratt, national committee-woman, of New York, and Kenneth Simpson, also of New York. Simpson was center of much attention at the meeting. Unanimously elected to the national committee to succeed Charles Hilles, who retired, Simpson withdrew his name from consideration for the executive committee to prevent a contest. This was part of a deal to block a nominee of the old Herbert Hoover leadership, which was made to put Mrs. Pratt on the committee. The deal finally was made and neither Simpson nor Mrs. Pratt were placed in nomination. Former Senator Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware was elected to the executive seat.

Knox County Farmer Dies In Pen Chair

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—A half-smile on his lips, 47-year-old Fred Mosley, Knox county farmer, stepped calmly into the death chamber of Ohio penitentiary last night, watched unperturbed while he was strapped in the chair, and died for the slaying of his wife.

His last request was for bananas, and Warden James C. Woodard sent two from his residence as a dessert for Mosley's final meal of fried chicken. Late in the day he chatted with his sister, Mrs. Ruth Spohr, of Mt. Vernon.

Pronounced dead at 8:06 p. m., four minutes after the current was applied, Mosley was the 213th man to die in the chair. His execution left 11 men and one woman death row.

The farmer was convicted by Knox county jury of shooting and beating to death his 45-year-old wife, Phyllis, last March 31, shortly after they and their three children had returned from a theater.

Mosley was charged with the crime, pleaded innocent, then he changed his plea to insanity, claiming he killed his wife in a fit of jealous rage when he doubted her fidelity. He was tried, sentenced to death, later adjudged sane, and his execution set for Oct. 11. A futile appeal delayed the date, however, and Tuesday his last hope died when the state clemency board refused to recommend a commutation to the governor.

CONFERENCE 'ALL-STARS' ARE SELECTED

DENISON RATES THREE PLAYERS ON OHIO SQUAD

Les Julian of Salem Is Awarded Honorable Mention

BY FRIZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1.—Coaches, sports writers and officials of the 20-college Ohio conference "put the finger" on the loop's gridiron talent today in selecting for the Associated Press the circuit's 1938 all-star squad.

Wooster, boasting one of the best-balanced squads and the conference championship, placed only two men among the first 33, while the fifth-place Denison team had three on the first team. John Carroll's mighty squad, unbeaten second-placer in the final standings, grabbed one first team berth and four on the second eleven.

Wittenberg, which dropped its first four games and then closed with a rush to take the last four, won four of the first 33 spots, as did Denison and Ohio Northern's Polar Bears.

Snider of Denison led the balloting and was awarded the first team captaincy along with his end position opposite Redner of Northern. Cunahan, Wooster's golden-toed tackle, won the job opposite the only "repeater" on the first team, Capital's husky Harry Campbell. Nichols of Mount Union and Fierdolls of Case annexed the guard berths, and Schulte of Denison was an overwhelming choice for center.

The backfield, boasting speed, power and fine defensive ability, is made up of Henderson of Wooster, rated the loop's smartest field general; Eddie Aresnault, John Carroll's scintillating ball carrier; Lasak of Wittenberg, passer de luxe whose unerring toe booted the Lutherans to at least two victories, and Pettit of Denison, stellar plunger and line backer.

Keel, Ohio Northern's fine signal-caller, just missed the first team, but led the second squad to take over the captaincy. Blackburn of Wittenberg, center, topped the third team voting to capture the captaincy.

The selections:

First Team
ENDS—Redner of Ohio Northern and Snider of Denison.
TACKLES—Cunahan of Wooster and Campbell of Capital.
GUARDS—Nichols of Mount Union and Fierdolls of Case.

Secrecy Surrounds Navy Coaching Job

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 1.—Official secrecy veiled today whatever plans Naval academy authorities may have for bolstering the Midshipmen's sagging football fortunes next year.

To a variety of rumors that coaching changes impended, academy officials replied "no decision" had been made on the football staff for 1939 and that reports to the contrary were "absolutely unfounded."

BOWLING RESULTS

Continuing in a tie for first place in the Pastime league, the Citizens Ice & Coal Co. and the Columbiana Firestones each won three games in their matches at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

The Firestones took the measure of the Bohr Florists while the Ice men won three games from Loudon V-8's.

Tyson's West End Service Station held onto third place by taking three games from the Stillicious Chocolates. Three victories over Bossett's kept the Washingtonville Odd Fellows in fourth position.

In other Pastime matches, Roberts Men's Shop won three games from the Jr. C. of C. No. 1 and the Jr. C. of C. No. 3 took two out of three games with Jr. C. of C. No. 2.

No change was made in the leadership of the Masonic Ladies league at the Masonic alleys last night as the Elks won three games from the Bankerettes to remain in first place.

The second-place Kresge team won two out of three games from the Ohio Edison to hold its position. Mullins office dropped from third to fourth place after losing two games out of three with Wark's Cleaners.

BIG 10 DEBATES BOWL PROPOSAL

Discuss Post-Season Contest at Western Conference Meeting

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Western conference football coaches and directors of athletics, in session here today, considered a proposal to confine the annual Rose Bowl game to teams from the Pacific coast and Big Ten conferences.

Where the idea originated, nobody seemed to know, but it was favorably regarded by authorities of both conferences. If the faculty committee of the Western conference approves such an arrangement, the championship team of the Big Ten annually would be designated to play the team chosen by the Pacific coast conference. Thus the difficulties and jealousies arising from the present method of choosing the team to go to the Pacific coast would in a large manner be eliminated.

Most of the athletic directors were reported to be favorable to such an agreement and so are some of the faculty members but it must be approved by the faculty men at their meeting tomorrow night. Noble Kizer, director of athletics at Purdue university, suggests that the Rose Bowl game be advanced to no later than Dec. 1 so that the Western conference team would not be obliged to continue practice in possible mid-winter weather and then go to the coast to play in mid-summer temperatures.

Fewer inter-sectional contests and more games within the conference make up the 1939 football program which comes up for ratification. No less than half of the universities will engage in six conference games next year as compared to only one university in 1938.

Northwestern, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and Ohio State are the teams which will meet six Big Ten opponents. Purdue, Michigan and Wisconsin, play five each, while Indiana will tackle four and Chicago three.

Minnesota, the 1938 champion, will engage Purdue, Ohio State, Northwestern, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin in 1939 with non-conference games against Arizona and Nebraska. Northwestern probably faces the toughest schedule open with unbeaten Oklahoma and Wisconsin in succession. Ohio State, Meconing, Illinois, Minnesota, Purdue and Iowa will invade Columbus to battle Ohio State.

PITT PANTHERS PLAY 18 GAMES

Dr. Carlson's Cage Team To Open Dec. 10 With Northwestern

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1.—An 18-game schedule for Pitt basketball team this fall, calls attention to the great record of the Pitt quintets of the past decade.

Pittsburgh's 18 game basketball schedule this winter likely will be about all the young Pitt team of the current season will be able to handle comfortably, and calls attention to the great way in which Pitt court teams have represented the university since 1927-28.

Dr. H. C. Carlson's teams stayed at home for the first five years, meeting local opposition, with very few exceptions. He started to send his squads against outside competition in 1926-27, and by 1927-28 was really on the way toward the great record his teams have hung up since that time.

Starting with that year the Panthers won their first national court title, when Charles Hyatt was a sophomore in 1927-28, the Pitt record has been a brilliant one. Not so much for the record, although 190 wins against 78 defeats is enough, but for the teams that made up the schedules.

Not content with such strong local rivals, as West Virginia, Penn State, Westminster, and Carnegie Tech, the Panthers have invited trouble in their nationwide schedules.

In the middle west all the Big Ten teams but one, Notre Dame, Michigan State, Marquette, Western Reserve, Muskingum, Xavier, DePaul, and Bradley Tech have been carded.

They have gone further west through Nebraska, Kansas and Creighton in the Missouri Valley, through Montana State and Colorado in the Rockies, against Southern California, and Stanford on the Pacific coast.

Down south they have met both Louisiana State and Kentucky in the Sugar Bowl, and have played Vanderbilt, W. and L. South Carolina and Tulane as well.

The eastern list is a long one, for outside the immediate district the Panthers have competed against Army, Navy, Syracuse, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Temple, Georgetown, C. C. N. Y., N. Y. U., Fordham, Colgate, Bucknell, Rensselaer, Lafayette, Swarthmore, Amherst, St. Johns and George Washington.

The Panthers open on December 10 against Northwestern at Evans-ton.

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Sydney had a shipwreck at its front door. The freighter Sydney Star, after a collision with the coastal freighter Macumba, late at night, had to be beached at Rose Bay, near the Empire flying-boat base.

Bob Feller's Speed May Be Curbed By Law's Decision

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 1.—Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' young pitching ace, faced today possible suspension of his automobile driver's license for a 90-day period.

Convicted of reckless driving, Feller yesterday was fined $100 by Municipal Judge Charles S. Cooter, who recommended suspension of the strikeout star's license.

The recommendation is addressed to the state motor vehicle department which customarily approves. Feller's fine was $25 more than the usual $75 imposed if the defendant proves guilty to the reckless driving charge.

State Highway Patrolmen N. B. Wilson and C. E. Woods testified

Feller piloted his car 87 miles an hour the night of Nov. 14 as he drove through Akeny, a small town near here, enroute to Des Moines.

Feller, his father and three other men, all returning from a hunting trip, testified his speed through Akeny was "between 40 and 50." They said "he slowed down to 30 miles an hour at the railroad crossing" in Akeny.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 1.—Massillon High school and Cathedral Latin High of Cleveland are among the first 25 on a list of top-ranking scholastic grid outfits from which the Louisiana Sports association will select two teams to decide the national championship Dec. 31.

Gov. Richard W. Leche is sponsoring the game, the first attempt to establish a national scholastic title.

The Sports association will announce the teams not later than Dec. 10.

Utah Accepts

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 1.—The University of Utah officially accepted today an invitation to meet New Mexico university in a football game at the El Paso Texas, Sun Bowl Jan. 2.

Utah and New Mexico hold the championships of the Big Seven and the Border football conferences, respectively.

Ernie Pelia of Monaca, Pa. who will appear in an amateur boxing show in Salem next week, posted a victory in a bout at Pittsburgh last night according to Julius Julian, co-manager of the Salem Athletic club.

Pelia will meet Al Sayres of Chester, W. Va., in one of two five-round feature bouts of an eight-bout card which will be presented at the Memorial building Tuesday night for the benefit of the Salem A. C.

Sayres is recognized as one of the leading middleweights in West Virginia and has fought Tad Dilettro of Wellsville, Ohio American Legion lightweight champion, losing on a split decision.

Meeting in the other five-round bout of the Salem A. C. show will be Willie Davis, Youngstown Golden Gloves champ, and Jack Sawyer of Niles.

The show will present fighters from three states, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, among them several amateur champions.

TENNESSEE HAS THREE PLAYERS ON STAR SQUAD

Eight Schools Represented On Southwestern All-Star Team

By KENNETH GREGORY
ATLANTA, Dec. 1.—Eight southern conference teams, headed by Tennessee's high-flying Volunteers, placed representatives on the 1938 all-star team of the Associated Press.

Coaches and sports writers joined in selecting the 11 players for the honor roll, voting positions to three Tennessee players and unanimously nominating the Volunteer captain, Eowden Wyatt, for an end berth—the lone candidate receiving a full bundle of ballots.

Joining Wyatt on the all-star lineup were his teammates, Quarterback George Cafego and Guard Robert Suffridge.

Louisiana State university placed two players on the team, with other places going to Georgia Tech, Auburn, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Tulane.

Suffridge was the only sophomore to crash the honor roll. Two juniors were accorded places—Cafego and Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State star named at the other end position.

There was one repeater from the 1937 team—Big Eddie Gatto of Louisiana State.

DAMASCUS P. O. SAFE IS CRACKED

Amount Taken Not Revealed by Postmaster H. O. Stanley

C. J. Delzell, who runs a tin shop just back of the store, noticed nothing unusual late last night. Postmaster Stanley said everything was all right when he passed the place about 11:30.

Sheriff Elser kept spectators from the store this morning until fingerprints were obtained and photographs taken.

The loot was understood to have included some of Stanley's own personal money, postoffice funds, checks and stamps. The safe itself was worth $75.

Because burglary is a federal offense, Inspector Russell indicated that a reward of about $200 would be offered for the arrest, or information leading to the arrest of the offenders.

Capital "Chain Gang"

These embattled clubwomen threatened to chain themselves to some of the capital's famous cherry trees to prevent their removal, as workmen began clearing the site for the new Thomas Jefferson memorial. Some women wrested the shovels from the workmen. Trees must go, however.

DALADIER WILL CALL MEETING

Strike Broken, He Plans To Demand Approval Of His Policies

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 1.—Premier Daladier, having broken labor's effort to wreck his government by a general strike, announced today that he intended to call parliament into session Dec. 8 and demand from it approval of his policies.

In government circles it was believed the stocky premier would muster sufficient strength to overcome the opposition of the Communists and Socialists, who backed yesterday's abortive strike as a protest against his economic decree laws.

Daladier, undisputed master of the situation, has ordered a three-year state of "economic mobilization" for the nation to carry through his program.

For parliamentary support he counted on a majority composed of his own Radical-Socialist party and groups further to the right.

Confers With Ministers

He conferred with individual ministers on plans for parliamentary approval of his decree laws, which provoked the unsuccessful protest strike, and planned a cabinet meeting before the end of the week to decide what punitive measures to take against labor, Socialist and Communist leaders.

Daladier's quick move to capitalize on the suppression of the strike was spurred on by Italy's public avowal of territorial demands on France.

Italian deputies' yells of "Tunisia! Tunisia!" during a speech by Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, with Premier Mussolini and the French ambassador looking on, were taken by French officials to mean France was facing a determined Fascist campaign for control of the north African protectorate.

It was known that some of Daladier's close advisers had counseled him to call Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet back to Paris for a "vacation," a sign of protest.

The premier's friends and the conservative right jubilantly announced the General Confederation of Labor, which ordered the unsuccessful general strike, was losing thousands of its boasted membership of 5,000,000.

See End of Party Influence

Conservative leaders called Daladier's victory the end of Socialist, Communist and organized labor influence in France.

Daladier lost no time in decreeing the three-year "economic mobilization," which was announced as soon as it was apparent his soldiers and police had broken the strike. The plan was disclosed in a note explaining the government's 1939 budget demands.

There were a few scattered disorders during the 24-hour strike period, but for the most part the people took the battle between the premier and the workers calmly and went about their affairs as usual.

The worst disorders were at Toulouse and Clermont Ferrand where strikers paraded through the streets smashing store windows. Three police inspectors and the mayor of Toulouse were injured in clashes with workers.

CAROL EMERGES AS STRONG MAN

Roumania Orders Purge of Terrorists To Obliterate Fascist Iron Guard

(By Associated Press)

BUCHAREST, Dec. 1.—With King Carol emerging firmly as a strong man ruler, Roumania ordered a purge of terrorists today to obliterate forever the Fascist-patterned iron guard.

The country was calm but police acted lest there be any outbreak as the aftermath to the deaths of Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, chief of the illegal guard, and 13 of his followers.

They were shot, authorities said, when they tried to escape from a prison guard detail. Codreanu was serving a term for treason.

Orders to police were to shoot ruthlessly anyone caught at crime or violence.

There had been reports the past several days that the guard's secret councils marked several prominent government leaders for death.

There appeared to be through the nation a feeling of relief. King Carol was emerging from the excitement in a strengthened position and he and his premier, Dr. Miron Cristea, were applauded.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains, are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's "waste" way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and in the blood.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
